HIGH LANES. HAYLE

Godrevy Sands, 10 mins by car from Copper Hills, Hayle

“Why am I so romantic about Cornwall?

I see children running in the garden. The sound of the sea at night.

A lifetime built on that,
permeated by that,
so much I would never explain.”

Virginia Woolf, 1921

AT HOME IN STYLE

THE DEVELOPMENT

A kitchen is the place to come together

The kitchen is the epicentre of a home. It's a place to enjoy good food with family and friends, it's a children's art studio, and it's a home office. They need to be designed for all the family and every occasion. The kitchen at Copper Hills is no different with living spaces that are multifunctional, durable and above all designed to be a place that you'll want to spend time in.

Style and quality from room to room, from inside to outside

The moment you step through the front door, you'll see style and quality from room to room. Every home has been designed to maximise the feeling of space and flow between rooms with lots of natural light. From the location of TV points and plug sockets to high quality kitchen cabinetry, every detail has been thought through to offer homes that are spacious, practical and stylish.

A LOCAL FLAVOUR

FROM DINING TO MEETING
THE LOCALS TO SHOPPING

Hayle has a real sense of neighbourhood – a place where neighbours have become friends.

Hayle's rise to prominence came during the nineteenth-century industrial revolution when steam engine manufacturer Harvey & Co. and iron foundry The Cornish Copper Company established steam engine and copper mining industries in the town. Its working roots remain to this day with a strong local community centred around Hayle's harbour, fishing industry and tourism. Unlike many towns on the Cornish coast, most of Hayle's 9,000 strong community live there year-round and there's a true sense of belonging with familiar faces and warm embraces.

The town's many sporting clubs, pubs, local shops, religious and community groups serve as hubs for people to come together, strengthening neighbourhood ties and creating an atmosphere where it feels as though everyone knows your name. All generations will feel at home in a town that offers so much.

A local outlook

HAMPSONS OF HAYLE

Dave, owner

I was born in Hayle and have been here all my life. It's always been a good community with great history. You have an enviable coastline, and the town is busy right through the year. My favourite thing to do when I'm not working is to go for a walk down the beach.

Visiting us

We do all your traditional pasties and pies but it's a family business that's been around since 1966. We like to offer a personal service and we're open to special requests. If someone wanted a huge pasty to feed 20 people, we'd give it a go. We'd also try out different recipes as long as it was financially viable. We used to be a butchers too and still butcher our own meat. Steak pies are our most popular and minted lamb is getting quite popular too.

BIRDIES BISTRO

Dom, owner

Hayle is such a great place for families. You have great schools, some of the best golden sand beaches and great local produce, which is ideal when you own a bistro. The views across the Hayle Estuary are stunning too. It's a nature reserve and home to lots of different species of wetland birds. And the view is always changing depending on whether the tide is in or out.

Visiting us

Birdies is a bit of a hidden gem located right next to the nature reserve. Locals come here to watch the birds and that's why we're called Birdies. We serve classic English dishes but with an imaginative difference. I recommend trying our bubble and squeak topped with bacon, poached eggs and hollandaise. It's one of our signature dishes.

CORNISH ARMS

Bernadette, owner

Hayle has glorious beaches that aren't commercialised so you can really walk with your thoughts. Hayle is about beach walking and surfing, it's much more relaxed than other parts of the Cornish coast. The community is like an invisible support system. People know each other and look out for each other no matter where you are from.

Visiting us

We're known for our food and large beer garden. Our bartender Max is renowned for his incredible cocktails, and you can always see him creating magic behind the bar. We have more than 40 gins. Our menu is produce-led and changes all the time, but our Cornwall chowder is very popular with mussels, squid and all sorts of seafood. Or there's our signature Harry Trotter beef burger with layers of pulled pork, bacon and a base of fig jam.

SALT BAR AND KITCHEN

Toby, owner

There's such a strong local community and you have good sporting clubs - rugby, football, rowing and surfing. The town has everything you need from local shops around the Foundry end to the retail centre at the Copper House end. Then you've got three miles of golden sands, the national trust nature conservation areas and St Ives round the corner.

Visiting us

Come try our Christmas martini. It's a coffee-based martini with hazelnuts and butterscotch schnapps. Another good one is the Cornish Garden. Gin with elderflower, lemon and Sea Buck tonic made from sea buckthorn in St Ives. If you're coming for lunch, the Bookmaker steak melt is a bit of a flagship for us. It comes on a garlic ciabatta base with melted blue cheese and red onion marmalade. Or if you're not a meat eater, I recommend our fish tacos using local hake.
